Mac Shann gave a vote of thanks to Hugh and expressed his disappointment at the negative attitude from members. Hugh Philp responded by outlining the process for complaints to be submitted through the ACA Office for review by the Management Committee.

Norma Shannon expressed her concerns regarding Campdraft One. Hugh Philp responded with an explanation that members are welcome to attend Management Committee meetings. Sean Dillon added that minutes from every meeting are available to members should they be requested. It was suggested by Norma Shannon that the minutes be posted on the website for viewing.

Evan Acton stated that every letter that is written and sent to the Operations Manager, is read, tabled and discussed at the Management Committee meeting following its receipt.

Mick Cole expressed his concerns in regards to ACA's in action towards the problem of people not getting in to campdrafts. Sean Dillon addressed this expressing that that a rule was put through at the Management Committee Meeting held earlier in the day to eliminate the issue of committees picking and choosing which events are affiliated on their programs, thus allowing more competitors to nominate.

Holly Dawson also expressed her concerns of members not getting in to campdrafts. Hugh Philp responded to this with some restrictions from the ACA General Information Competition Rules and Guidelines that ACA Affiliated committees can impose to get the maximum number of members into each event. He also mentioned that Secretaries Forums are available and a great tool to help get information across to ACA Secretaries. Mac Shann added that anyone can get in and have a go, start a committee and put back into the sport.

Norma Shannon raised her concerns about the 50% increase on membership fees that is applied to memberships paid after 31 January. Hugh Philp responded that the same increase was in place last year with no complaints from members. Gabrielle Franklin added that the price for administering a membership is still the same and that the additional cost is reflective of how much it increases if a member renews late. Sean Dillon noted that the volunteer status membership option that is available for those attending who can contribute through the committee.

Tom Gleeson said he was against the 50% increase of membership fees paid after 31 January.

Presentation to Outgoing President

Presented by Incoming President, Rohan Marks.

Attachment A President's Report: Hugh Philp

Good evening to our Patron Mr Ed McCormack and members of the ACA.

Welcome to the 49th AGM of this mighty association. In a year where 83% of community sports Australia wide have been on the decline, the ACA flag has continued to fly proudly. Not without our challenges, however. Considering we had a no points season last year I was concerned with COVID-19 on the doorstep that this year could be the same. I remember sending a message to the ladies in the office in January that if we achieved 5000 members and 100 campdrafts then we would be going well. Tonight, at this moment I can proudly say we have 9644 financial members & have run 182 ACA campdrafts and they talk about Peter Vlandys, please hold my beer!

I would like to congratulate the office on their professionalism and sometimes the less glamorous dealing of the ever changing COVID-19 advice! We hope that the support that committees and members receive is appreciated. I would like to congratulate Gabrielle, Grace, Katie, Greta, Georgia and Taylah on their continued dedication as we march into the much anticipated 50th year! There has been restructures within the office to give more responsibility and I feel this is healthy for personal development.

Two weekends ago, I had the privilege of judging the High School Campdraft with Terry Hall. There were 270 students representing 37 schools and combined we judged 760 runs! It was great for ACA to be involved for the first time, and so would hope everyone is proud of what this event has become. There is no doubt that our strong future is determined by our youth being involved and I believe there is a bright light burning.

In early June we had a very important meeting concerning the continued development of Campdraft One. This has been an ongoing process for the last four years, so it was incredibly satisfying that a deal could be secured for a nomination platform in the near future to be paid off over eight years. I will let the Treasurer in his report update you on the dollars involved with this project. In a world that is moving so fast, I felt the Management Council took a real common-sense approach to this concept.

There is no doubt that the big loss this year was the passing of our Founding President, Ashley McKay. In my final visit to Ashley I told him I would get back to my role as President. Ashley replied, "We all hope you do." At the High School Draft, I cracked a young man off for dangerous riding, then I went out and explained to him why. When I finished the young man shook my hand and thanked me. Think Ashley would have been proud of this sportsmanship. His legacy will live on forever.

There are a few changes in the Management Council this year. I would like to thank Andrew Stallmann for his commitment as he stands down as Vice President. His contribution with Campdraft One, the Medical Providers and pushing the formation of the Youth Group has not gone unnoticed. We wish you and Jill all the best for the future. I would like to welcome Rohan Marks to the Executive Group as he will bring enthusiasm and no less than 35 years' experience drafting and judging all over the country. I would like to thank Glenn Evans as he stands down after seven years as Chair of the Code of Conduct Sub Committee. Glenn maintained his position through a very difficult transition period for Code of Conduct but no doubt very rewarding. Glenn is a wonderful person and we are very proud to have him as a Management Council Member. We welcome Fiona Radke into this challenging role, and we wish her all the best. I would like to thank Mat Durkin as he steps down from Chairman of the Youth Camps/ Starter Clinics Sub Committee. Mat's passion for ACA and our youth has been so important through this challenging time. I would like to welcome Tania Moorhead into this role of Chairman of the Youth Camps. I would like to thank all the other chairman's who maintain their role moving forward and I think it is fitting to recognise the Youth Camps & Judges Clinics that continue to be held and also the never-ending monitoring of the rules. I would also like to recognise the Awards Committee for their work with the merchandise for ACA's Golden Anniversary Year. I would also like to congratulate Sean Dillon on his very well-deserved Life Membership. And a big thank you to all our sponsors who continue to support us year in year out.

On a personal note this has been an extremely challenging year, but I would like to thank ACA members, Management Council, the Executive Group, the NCCA and family & friends for the respect everyone has shown to my family. There is a saying in Australia that 'you back your mates no matter what'. I have learnt this year there is no truer statement. To any family or individuals with challenges, there is always someone to talk to.

With the year ahead, I am sure everyone is aware of the Golden Anniversary celebrations. I am so proud to lead this wonderful volunteer association into this iconic achievement. Let's pull together and make it a year to remember!

May I ask for a mover and seconder for my report please.

Attachment B Vice President's Report: Stephen Sheppard

Good evening Members, Guests, and Patron, Ed.

It is with great pleasure that I present my Vice President Report for 2021.

Well, what a time for ACA. As we quickly approach our fiftieth year, my thoughts go to how we got here and the people that laid the foundation that has enabled ACA to evolve into what it is today.

This year we were devastated by the passing of our Founding Father, Ashley McKay. Sadly, Ashley won't see the Association he founded make fifty years, but his contribution and foresight will be remembered forever within ACA. The structure, goals and many procedures put in place at that first meeting are still in place today. I believe the strength of ACA lies in its volunteers. From the grassroots Committee Members, to the members of the Management Committee, everybody volunteers their time and covers their own expenses. This has ensured that the people at all levels have the best interests of the sport and ACA members at heart.

The last two years have been somewhat of a rollercoaster to say the least. COVID-19 has caused the largest upset to our society in history. 2020 was disastrous. With regulations making it impossible to hold events, we saw affiliations and memberships plummet. This year has seen committees adapt COVID-19 plans to run events, and our membership sits at over 9000.

Exciting times are ahead for ACA in the next twelve months. The financial year will shift from April 1 to January 1. This will correspond with the quieter time in the Office and allow memberships to be received in January & be accounted for in the current year. It will also enable more time to be allocated to the lead up to the Finals in April.

Speaking of which, the ACA Golden Anniversary Finals hosted by the Springsure Working Horse Association, should be a huge event and a fitting celebration of our fifty years. Next year will also see the rollout of Campdraft One. Thanks to Nic & Will Fordyce and the ACA Office Team for their tireless work on this project. As many of you know, it has been trialed recently and should be widely available for committees in the New Year. The benefits to ACA and members from this program are boundless & will propel us into the next chapter in the ACA story.

I would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a safe and happy Christmas & New Year. With a positive outlook on the weather front and good commodity prices, 2022 looks like it may be a great year to be turning fifty.

May I ask for a mover and seconder for my report please.

Attachment C Vice President's Report: Andrew Stallmann

Good Evening Members,

Regrettably I am unable to attend this year's AGM in person, and have asked ACA Secretary, Gabrielle Franklin, to read my Vice President Report on my behalf. This is my final Vice President Report, as I retire from the ACA Executive after eight years on the ACA Management Committee.

On the topic of retirements, I would like to acknowledge the contributions of outgoing Northern Zone Councillor, Liz Miller. Welcome to our incoming Northern Zone Councillor, Ben Stanger. I am sure you will find your time on the ACA Management Committee insightful and rewarding, as I have.

At last year's AGM, I reported that ACA had a robust and reliable member, horse & points database in Campdraft One, and that the potential development of a nominations platform would be considered in due course. I am pleased to advise our committees and members that in the twelve months following this, ACA entered into an agreement to build an in-house nominations platform with an external IT provider, which has recently been used at a number of ACA events. Thank you to the ACA Affiliated Committees that opted to use the program, and the members that subsequently nominated via it. As with any large software development, faults were experienced & areas for improvement were identified, and the ACA Project Team, along with our IT provider, continue to refine these, with the software to be available to all ACA Affiliated Committees in 2022.

Most members would not be aware that for the past four years, I have served as a member of the board on the Queensland Horse Industry Alliance, a position I am also stepping down from. This group is an integral part of animal welfare in Queensland, made up of representatives from organisations including Equestrian Queensland, Queensland Show Society, Queensland Polocrosse Association and the Endurance discipline. In the last twelve months, the Queensland Horse Industry Alliance has worked hard to ensure the Queensland Government understands & acknowledges the equine industries' stance in regard to proposed reforms relating to both the land movement of horses and horse traceability.

I'd like to take this opportunity to thank all of the dedicated and hardworking ACA Office Team that do an incredible job behind the scenes to make our weekends campdrafting easier. I would also like to thank all the counsellors on the Management Committee for sacrificing their personal time for the benefit of ACA. Lastly, I'd like to thank the Executive Committee, as they have always been able to find the time to support each other at any time of the day or night and continue to advance the ACA legacy.

It is great to be involved with a sport that spans from one end of the country to the other, bringing together an amazing group of people, including cattle donors, committees, volunteers, competitors and local communities.

I wish ACA, it's Members, Committees, Management Committee and Staff all the very best for the future. May I ask for a mover and seconder for this report please.

Attachment D Vice President's Report: Sean Dillon

Good Evening Life Members, Management Committee Members and Members,

Like my fellow Executives Andrew and Ian, I am unable to attend in the AGM in person tonight. Hence, I will be brief in this Vice President's report.

The past year has not been without its challenges, most significant for me, in my capacity as Vice President, were COVID and animal welfare related. Queensland has been in the fortunate position to have been able to continue to campdraft, largely unimpeded by COVID, whilst our southern counterparts, unfortunately have not. We look forward to a brighter 2022, where ACA members in NSW and VIC will be able to join us and looking at the latest updates from the Queensland Premier, this is looking promising, sooner rather than later.

Significant interactions between ACA and other equine organisations around Australia have occurred over the past 12 months in the animal welfare sphere. Like Andrew, who sits on the Queensland Horse Industry Alliance Board, I sit on the Australian Horse Industry Council board. This group is an active contributor to discussions surrounding the horse traceability & the land transport of horses, as well as being an active advisor to government departments.

In closing, I would like to acknowledge the dedication of our outgoing Vice President, Andrew Stallmann, and wish him & Jill all the very best for the future.

May I ask for a mover and seconder for this report please.

Attachment E Treasurer's Report: Ian Watson

Good Evening Members,

Regretfully, as I am based in Armidale, New South Wales, the current border closures prevent me from delivering this Treasurer's Report to you in person tonight. Should you have any queries relating to the financial affairs of the Association after hearing this brief report, I welcome you to contact me. The ACA Office Team can provide my contact details.

This report is based on the financial year ending 31 March 2021. The audit for the year ending 31 March 2021 was completed by Brandt Accounting in Roma. There was an overall profit of approximately $215,000 for the year; this is testament to the dedication of our Executive and Management Committee, to have reached a good financial position after the first 12-month period of the COVID pandemic, where campdrafting ceased Australia wide.

In further good news, the cash on hand at the closing of the year was approximately $940,000, with liabilities of approximately $66,000. The full audit report, for this year, and years prior, is available on the ACA website at all times for member's review should this be of interest to you. The bottom line for year ending 31 March 2021 saw member's funds sitting at approximately $1.4 million dollars, made up predominately of the two ACA owned properties plus cash on hand.

Looking to the current financial year, the Association is again in a good position, with the popularity of campdrafting certainly shining through. It may interest members and committees to know that since the commencement of the current campdrafting season, 182 campdrafts have been held nationwide; and if you do the math, this equates to the equivalent of just under one campdraft held per day.

Many of you would be aware that ACA has entered into an agreement to build our own internal nominations platform, which has been trialed with success at several campdrafts in recent months. This has been a substantial investment for the Association, and while it is planned to be available for all committees to use in 2022, the program will be paid off over a period of eight years with the most substantial payments being made in the first two years. For this I credit our Management Committee, who have never lost sight of the Association's goal to house our own internal nominations platform and who's vision is now coming to fruition.

In closing, I would like to recommend that FTA Accountants in Roma be engaged as the auditor for the financial year closing 31 December 2021. This recommendation is based on an assessment of the current auditor options between myself and the ACA Office Team.

May I ask for a mover and seconder for this report please.

ACA President's Report – Hugh Philp

Good Evening to our Patron, Mr Ed McCormack, the Management Committee and Members of ACA! It is a great honour to stand before you at our Annual General Meeting at the start of our ACA Golden Anniversary National Finals!

Although things are quite different to back in 1972, you have to admit mateship and unity are still things we hold in high regard! Thanks to Springsure for all of your preparations for this coming week, which we have all look forward to! I ask all members to make this a week to remember and let us rejoice in the sacrifices made by those before us!

Since our last Annual General Meeting held in Chinchilla, there have been some notable changes that have been met with concerns! We have replied to those as best we can regarding the membership rise, but the Management Committee have held firm on their decisions and so I thank those members who have renewed in January! Campdraft One is part of our costs going forward, but this is really only a small part in what has become big business for ACA! If you ask if I have been disappointed with Campdraft One, then the answer would be yes in recent months. But if you ask me about the last four years, then I am extremely proud! We have terrific people involved in this project and I know they try their best! We as members need to have the attitude of how can we help make this better! Members often question the affiliation fee for committees, but I can assure you the value received for twelve months cover is well worth the fee. I believe the support offered in our office is second to no one and I congratulate them on this!

There are many challenges right now in the world that honestly has us all bit worried, but I am grateful we can still do the sport we love! In 1972, the challenge was creating rules that would seem fair and more structured! Today we deal with massive nominations and technology, but through it all, the Management Committee continue to work with committees & find a way to adapt! I am proud of the financial position we are in at the moment, and am grateful for the Roma Office with all the work they do! Good employees are hard to find in any business so everyone should be grateful for those in the Roma Office!

In the coming weeks I will stand down from position as President and will stay on as Councillor for the Central Zone! I would like to thank Ian Atthow, Andrew Stallman, Sean Dillon, Stephen Sheppard, Rohan Marks, Greg Wallace, Ian Watson & Gabrielle Franklin for their support over the last four years! Also, I would like to thank the past & present chairpersons of the sub committees – Glenn Evans, Fiona Radke, Phillip Aikenhead, Mac Shann, Wendy Wockner, Patrice Elliott, Mat Durkin, Dane Bateman, Jenni levers and Tania Moorhead for their dedication! To the rest of the Management Committee, you can stand tall! You have allowed me to stand up here and be myself, but then in my lowest point, you have stood by me!

To Rohan, I wish you all the best for the future, and I think you will always know that you have my support 100%! To Peter Petty, welcome into the Executive, I know you will keep the whip cracking, so great to have you brother!

I look forward to the year ahead & lastly again thanks to the Springsure Working Horse Association for hosting this wonderful celebration!

Regards,
Hugh Philp

ACA Vice President's Report – Rohan Marks

Good Evening Patron Ed McCormack, Members and Committees

It is with pleasure that I present to you my first, and only, AGM report, as Vice President, as I look forward to stepping into the President's role from 1 May onwards.

I hope that many of you take the time to read our Association's magazine, the ACA News. I wrote a Vice President's report for the February/March edition, where I outlined my concerns around the recent negativity towards many of our top riders, and to our Association in general. Tonight, I want to expand on my thoughts a little further, in the interest of protecting the integrity and positive attributes of our popular-as-ever sport.

The total number of Management Committee Members we had, prior to the Operations Manager's report earlier this evening, was 45. For the Management Committee Members, all of whom are volunteers, to all travel to and from any given Management Committee Meeting, is just shy of 100,000 kilometres. There are three Management Committee Meetings in a typical year, and there are no reimbursements or allowances provided by ACA for anything related to meeting attendance. With the cost of fuel, or perhaps flights depending on where a Management Committee Member is coming from, accommodation, food and the time taken to travel, I'll leave it up to you to do the maths on the fiscal contribution kindly donated by these individuals who volunteer their private and professional time to run our Association.

Now if we did do the maths on what I just outlined, we'd easily find ourselves a triple figure sum. Add to this, the days that our Management Committee are away from their own places of work or business. Many take leave, to attend these meetings, whilst many leave their own business. This leads me to my next point, that collectively, we have a kaleidoscope of professional personnel, many of who, have reputations of the highest order in their chosen career, and who make key decisions for our society, and safeguard our Association's way into the future. If we had to pay for services rendered, what would our membership and affiliation fees look like then? If we had to pay for the Management Committee's travel expenses, what would our membership and affiliation fees look like then?

If, after knowing all of this, you are still comfortable with making negative remarks about any of our Association's decisions, or any of our fees, I urge you to consider it would be far easier for these humans to not be on management, than to be on management. From 7500 members, interestingly, only two members have applied to come on the Management Council, that were not previously on the ACA Management Committee. With commentary on social media about our decision making, I thought many may have applied to assist us with the aforementioned.

While on the topic of negative remarks, I've seen some, about Campdraft One. I'd therefore like to thank the majority of members and committees who have embraced Campdraft One – overall, it seems most people have enjoyed using the program, and, as with anything I guess, the negative comments, which are in the minority, have been the loudest, but this is not a true reflection of the software. Campdraft One is not without fault, no software roll out ever is; our IT and Office Team are making improvements to it every day. From a cost benefit point of view, the software has reduced administration time, and will continue to slash this, as it is further added to and refined. We don't see ourselves in competition with anyone in trying to build this platform. It is unique and purpose built for our organisation alone. Currently in 2022, phone in nominations or post in nominations are archaic, and in an attempt to deliver on members request, the Management Committee, led by Hugh Philp, have worked tirelessly for a long period of time, to appease your requests.

To this effect, ACA currently view Campdraft One as a realised success. I want to assure members and committees that should the time ever present itself where Campdraft One is no longer a benefit to ACA, we simply won't use it. All contracts pertaining to the build and sale, have been executed in such a manner, that member's interests and funds are protected, with minimal commitment to the program from ACA until we are certain it is a help and not a hinderance. The fact that we are using the software here, at our 50th Year National Finals, speaks volumes about the Management Committee and Office Team's confidence in the Campdraft One. There is $1.1 million dollars cash at bank right now, an office and house owned outright by the members, a Management Committee excited and invigorated to take us into the future, and a software program that'll compliment all of this – there's so much to be positive about, so let's hop on the train and see where it takes us.

Hugh, thank you for your contribution to our Association. The effort put in is worth ten times the remuneration received. The time pondering on decisions and their outcomes no less, the time spent chartering a course through IT land. This pioneering action, will in time be a legacy the whole Association will be proud of. We thank you Mr President for delivering on these requests and the Association can stand taller and see further because of you. The compassion, readiness to mediate, and strength of leadership; have united and strengthened this Association. Members actions being louder than words, reflect this, by their attendance at our biggest, and 50th Anniversary, National Finals.

Finally, I'd like to thank my family, for their support in making the decision to give back to the sport I have spent the past 35 years enjoying. I hope everybody has an enjoyable and successful week, and may the next 50 years be as prosperous as the last 50. This ends my VP report for 2022.

I move that my report be accepted. May I have a seconder?

ACA Vice President's Report – Sean Dillon

Good evening members

Once again we report to you after a year affected by substantial events, COVID and insurance chief among them and I will focus on those two areas tonight.

We moved from border restrictions shutting down business as normal to vaccinations requirements and state government regulations around access varying across the states. However painful and difficult this made organising and attending events, it would now appear to be a thing of the past and hopefully normality can return.

Insurance continues to be a very tricky area to manage. I need to reiterate that events which run under our affiliation have the most complete insurance protection available in Australia. The key elements are the access to Public Liability which has been very tricky to source cover for and a particular liability cover known as Professional Indemnity which is an Errors, Acts and Omissions cover that protects not only competing members from litigation but judges, cattle donors, committee members, volunteers basically any official or helper at any event.

Despite price rises and tricky management issues, please rest assured that our cover is complete and comprehensive. We work diligently to ensure compliance and communicate frequently to ensure that our members and our insurers understand the issues in a two way information flow. Please reach out to our Operations Manager and her staff if you have any queries or wish to clarify any point relevant to your/our insurance.

One point I need to point out that may clarify the situation for committees, all events run under our affiliation are covered by the ACA's insurance, irrespective of the fact that they may hold insurance cover for other reasons, eg an Show Society or Pony Club. There has been an alternative position historically but recent developments have changed this. It doesn't mean that committees are double insured, they obviously require the other forms for other activities, however the process of running an event under our rules automatically triggers protection by the ACA policy.

Tonight's AGM sees the Association undergo a change that has only occurred 7 times previously and that is the change of our President. All of them have been elected unopposed.

Hugh has been a terrific leader for not only the management committee but for the whole association. His work to mediate, collaborate and communicate has been nothing short of next level. I have been constantly amazed at his ability to cut through on really important issues as well as issues that might seem trivial to some but still important to those who raise them. His patience, understanding and impeccable manner in dealing with the issues and the people are and have been an absolute credit to him. Hugh, your respect for both the process and the people of the Association have ensured that not only your reputation is in the highest of standing, but that of your office and the ACA in general. It has been my pleasure to work as part of your executive team, and I wish you all the very best for the future, but mainly offer my genuine thanks for the work, effort and dedication you have put into the role. Thanks mate.

ACA Vice President's Report – Stephen Sheppard

Good Evening Members and Guests,

It is with great pleasure that I present my Vice President Report for 2022, the fiftieth year of ACA. This coming week in Springsure will undoubtedly be one to remember as we celebrate this milestone for the Association. As most will know, ACA was formed at a meeting at the Emerald Star Hotel in Emerald on 26 February 1972. The structures put in place at that meeting largely stand today and are the cornerstone for the longevity & success of ACA.

The volunteer base of the Association cannot be overstated. From the backyard workers, to secretaries, to the management committee, the volunteer effort is incredible.

In our fiftieth year I think it is appropriate to acknowledge the effort of all past and present Management Committee members. The millions of kilometres travelled, the nights in motel rooms and the hours put in, all at their personal expense, have shaped ACA into the organisation it is today. I believe that every member of the Management Committee has had the best interests of the sport at heart.

2022 will hold other significant moments for ACA. It sees the changing of the financial year to January 1, hence this Annual General Meeting being only a few months from the last one. This change will spread the administrative workload around membership renewals and the lead up to the Finals.

This AGM also sees a changing of the guard with Rohan Marks stepping up to the role of President and Peter Petty into the role of Vice President. I look forward to the energy & experience they bring to these roles and wish them all the best during their terms in office.

It also heralds the end of Hugh Philp's term as President. His time as President has not been uneventful and we have had our share of highs & lows during the last few years. In all situations, Hugh has conducted himself in a manner most of us can only aspire to. A while ago I heard a once well known passage from a poem by Adam Lindsay Gordon. "Life is mostly froth and bubble. Two things stand like stone – Kindness in another's trouble. Courage in your own." This, I believe, sums up Hugh.

Campdraft One is also being rolled out this year. The benefits this program will have for ACA are huge. Although as with any new system, there have been a few glitches, the overall program should deliver as expected and enable ACA to progress & better manage many aspects of the sport that have up to now been hard to accurately measure.

I look forward to the next week and the next chapter in ACA. The future looks bright for campdrafting. Who knows what the next fifty years has in stall for us. I would like to move this report be accepted.

ACA Treasurer's Report – Ian Watson

Our Treasurer, Ian Watson, is unable to be here with us at the AGM this evening. I have prepared for you, in his absence, an overview of the Association's Audit Report, for the Year ending 31 December 2021.

The total income for 2021 was $1.2 million dollars, baring in mind, this was over a nine month period, rather than twelve, to account for the change to the Association's Financial Year dates. This change was voted in by member's at Paradise Lagoons Campdraft last April. The total expenditure for the same period was $1 million, making the retained earnings for the period $200,000.00.

The Cash On Hand as at 31 December 2021 was just under half a million dollars; and when combined with assets made up of the ACA House, the ACA Office, plus plant and equipment, the Association's balance sheet at the end of the year was $1.6 million. Considering the tough climate of recent years, including drought, and COVID, this is a fantastic achievement and a testament to good financial management by our Executive and wider Management Committee.

ACA has no debt, and minimal liabilities. Whilst we committed to the purchase of Campdraft One in July last year, which has been a sizable investment, repayments have been structured in a way that will not inhibit Association cash flow, and as Rohan said in his report earlier, are non committal, in the unlikely event, the software does not prove a success. Campdraft One payments aside, our only other liabilities are operational, for example statutory payments like PAYG and BAS.

I have referenced the Audit Reports of organisations similar in size and or structure, and am of the firm opinion that the Association is in a sound financial position.

May I have a mover for this report?
